

BULLET

Full Stack Developer

Full time | Remote or Studio | Salary £27k - £37k DOE | Start ASAP

Deadline - Apr 2nd 2021

We are looking for a talented developer who wants to be a pivotal part of our team, proud of the high quality developments we deliver, and support for our clients.

Our super talented and collaborative team is made up of some great developers covering skills in PHP, Laravel, Mobile App Development (React Native) and other open source technologies. As a team, we focus our objectives to provide our clients with solutions that genuinely make a difference. Listening to our clients and planning the right solution is as important as the tech we use. With a growing client base, we are now looking for an in-house Full Stack developer to join our experienced and friendly team.

What you bring to the team:

- 3+ years of commercial experience
- Experience of working with MVC frameworks, we use Laravel
- Developing high quality frontend coding to reproduce designs and user experience set out by design teams and from visual assets provided in Sketch and Adobe.
- Confident working with source control; using code repositories (GIT), deployment tools and managed releases of code to ensure robustness.
- Happy to oversee other members of the extended team - breaking down tasks and ensuring quality delivered meets our standards.
- Passionate about coding standards and keeping your code clean and a desire to improve as a developer
- Understanding of core UX principles - we develop back-end UI's
- Great project management skills
- An open and enthusiastic mindset
- Excellent problem-solving skills and strong attention to detail
- Great communication skills, especially within team environments
- Confidence and ability to lead clients in discussions around technology decisions around your skill set including with the team

- A continued growth mindset - always keen to learn more and improve as a developer

Bonus points if you have:

- Understanding of other development frameworks, in particular Laravel
- Experience of using ORM's, we adopt the Doctrine ORM
- Knowledge of Laravel ecosystems such as Forge, Envoyer, Valet etc
- Good understanding of AWS such as S3, EC2 etc
- Enjoy working with API's and writing wrappers to interface
- Experience in mobile app development

Benefits

- Competitive salary (doe)
- Work remotely or in the studio (we like to meet at least once a month if Gov guidelines allow)
- 25 days annual leave p/a
- Additional days off between Christmas Eve and new year
- Your own computer (desktop or laptop)
- Regular company outings (and lunch club!)
- Company Pension framework
- On tap coffee, tea & chilled drinks (when/if you're in the studio)
- Regular team meet-ups
- Working with a wider team at our sister company, Red Bullet - specialists in UX and Creative

Remote working at Bullet Digital Solutions

We recently reopened our studio in Canterbury with safety measures in place for people that wish to use it, but for this role, we are open to hiring someone based in the UK who would work remotely. As government restrictions relax, we expect there to be occasions where meeting in person with the team or a client are necessary so by applying for the position you accept this is something you are willing and able to do.

How to apply

Send your application to andy@bulletdigitalsolutions.co.uk with the following things included:

- Cover letter (be creative) with an explanation of what attracts you to this position
- CV emphasising the relevant experience you have
- Portfolio demonstrating your best development skills